SLAY 50, WOUND 100 IN MASSACRE OF JEWS

RUSSIAN TROOPS STORM GHETTO AT STOK AFTER BOMB THROWING

BERLIN, July 7. Prominent Jews here have received news of an anti-Jewish outbreak which has occurred at Bialystok, a town of Russian Poland in the government of Grodno. The attack on the Jews was the result of a bomb outrage which was reported to have occurred in the town.

A bomb was thrown in one of the busiest streets of the town, killing five policemen and two women. At the same moment that the infernal machine exploded a mob of 100 to 150 persons gathered in the street and began to throw stones and clubs overhanging the street.

The authorities immediately sent troops to Jewish agitators and ordered the troops to retreat through the town. The soldiers were turned back in the Jewish quarter without the slightest restraint and killed fifty and wounded over 100 Jews.

According to the information received here upon revolution exists throughout the government of Suwalka, Russia. The town of Orjelsk has been seized by the Pose Well Armed.

Sergeant Edward A. Bowker has charge of the search in behalf of the town authorities, and has enlisted Chief of Police David Stoddard and special policemen assigned from Rockland and Whitman. Every man is thoroughly armed, owing to the fact that the outlaw is well known for carrying a thirty-eight-calibre revolver, fully loaded, and is evidently determined not to be taken alive.

The woodland in which the man is hiding is located between this village and the town of Rockland, and is reached by going directly through the woods for a distance of over a mile and a half. The woods are thickly wooded with spruce, fir and underbrush and also high grass, over which the outlaw is known to move with great ease and without detection difficult.

Although the trailing search has been continued for some time, it was reported that the outlaw was in great haste, and was a tramp, and it was not until yesterday that the local authorities were stirred to action, and they are now making every effort to prevent any threatening every resident of this town.

The Boy's Story.

"The man was in the bushes near the roadway, and suddenly came into the open, pulled the big revolver from his hip pocket, and, without saying one word, fired at us," said William Williams, when talking with the reporter.

"The bullet struck the road right in front of my brother's foot and it scared him until he was nearly ready to cry. I didn't know what to do because I was afraid because he was getting ready to fire again, but I guess the revolver wouldn't work. It must have been jammed. He yelled, 'Get out of here.' He ran down into the woods and some men ran after him. They were shouting, 'Run! Run! Run!' I saw where he lived and told Mr. Kelly, where we live. She sent me up to Reuben's house to get my gun. I went there but couldn't find him. I showed them

MURDER MYSTERY IN THE NORTH END PARK

Discovery of a probable murder was made by Lieutenant Thomas Foley at the North End Park yard when he found the body of a man supposed to be John Laurin in the water, partially beneath the park bath-house.

The throat was cut in several places. There were black and blue marks about the throat as though strong fingers had choked the man. The cuts were deep rather than long and he was thought they had been made with a knife.

takers took charge of the body and Medical Examiner Harris was notified. Medical investigators sent out inspectors to work on the case.

Died During Night.

It is believed that the man died some time during the night and that efforts were made to cover up the crime by throwing him overboard. At that time the tide should have carried the body on to the beach. The night was very dark and the boathouse and remained there until found

Report That Rebel Battleship in Black Sea Was Blown Up Not Confirmed—Vessel Left Theodosia Before Arrival of Imperial Fleet.

BERLIN, July 7.—Moscow dispatches to the Vossische Zeitung say at a conference of representatives of reform revolutionary groups, held there, it was proposed to issue a proclamation announcing the dethronement of the Czar and the establishment of a democratic government with Moscow as the capital.

Delegates all promised support to a reform government of moderate views.

ST. PETERSBURG, July 7.—There is a report here to-day that the crew of the Russian battleship, Catherine the Great has joined the mutineers.

LONDON, July 7.—Reports reach London to-day by way of Odessa that the rebel battleship Kniaz Potemkin has been blown up near Theodosia, and 800 men lost their lives.

A dispatch to the Daily Mail from Odessa says that the rebel ship bombarded Theodosia, and the town was partly burned. This dispatch also gives a rumor that another torpedo boat has joined the rebel ship, and that the Czar's soldiers are looting the town.

London hears, too, that two torpedo boats which attacked the Potemkin were blown up and sunk. There is no confirmation of this.

A Central News dispatch from Theodosia says the Potemkin left there last night, after seizing a British steamer with coal, and compelling it to follow her.

ST. PETERSBURG, July 7.—The Kuzlax Potemkin escaped from Theodosia before the Black Sea fleet arrived there from Sebastopol, and as the fleet did not put into Theodosia it is presumed the warship went in pursuit of the Potemkin.

But advices received by the Admiralty are meagre and most conflicting. It is considered possible that "Ensign and Quartermaster" Alexoff, who commands the Kniaz Potemkin, was advised of the fleets coming and left Theodosia.

ODESSA, July 7.—The statement is made from Theodosia that the rebel battleship Kulaz Potemkin boasted that it would attack Batoum, reduce the fortifications, which are only second class and not in good condition, and seize the arsenal in order to replenish the ammunition supply. This declares that the citizens of Batoum are only awaiting such an act to rise in open revolt.

REPORT POTESKIN BLOWN UP; 800 DEAD

LONDON, July 7. It is reported here from Odessa that the rebel outlying Kales Potruknik has been lost up near Theodosia, and that 500 men took their flight.

The correspondent of the Daily Mail at Odessa, however, says it is reported there that the Kales Potruknik has been lost near Theodosia; that the town is burning, and that the soldiers of the garrison are engaged in looting.

It is also reported that another torpedo boat has joined the mutineers.

A dispatch from Theodosia says that a boat from the Kales Potruknik was seen ashore and was met by infantry fire, which killed two men and caused seven to surrender.

The torpedo boat in the hands of the mutineers is reported to have been driven into the town, and later the Kales Potruknik continued to manoeuvre in sight of Theodosia.

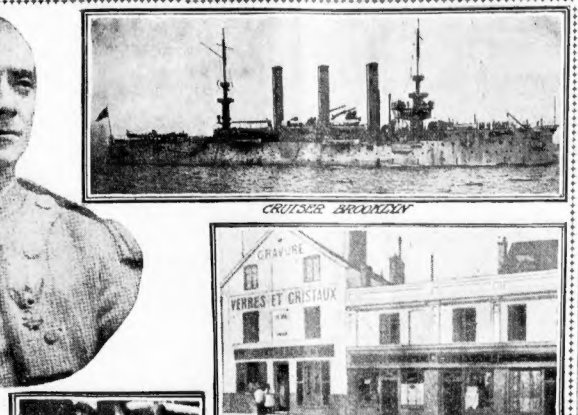

Theodosia has been declared in a state of siege.

Up to 2 o'clock this morning no report had been received from the town.

FATHER OF TRUSTS SAYS JUDGE

James B. Dill May Have to Pass on Legality of His Own Work.

BUILT OVER 700 CHARTERS

By Boston American Reporter. NEW YORK, July 7.—James B. Dill, one of the fathers of the trust movement, has been appointed to the vacancy on the bench of the Court of Appeals and Appeals in New Jersey, the home and breeding place of the trust.

The remarkable appointment was made by Governor Stokes, in the name of the current protest of the Bar Association of New Jersey, which asked a man reputed to be an expert on the subject of trusts.

It is called the "father of the trusts" because he has written practically every line of the famous measure which has caused the State across the Hudson to become the center of every great trust and corporation in this country.

Helped in 70 Charters.

Mr. Dill has drafted a charter or in part the charters of two corporations, and he is a director in fifty or more. He is also the chief counsel of a corporation which has been incorporated in New Jersey for the purpose of the corporation in New York.

What is Dill to do now? was the question asked of all on hearing of his appointment. James B. Dill was born at Newburgh, New York, Jan. 25, 1844, and was educated at Yale University. He graduated from Yale in 1866 and then went to the University of the City of New York to study law. He was admitted to the bar in 1868 and then went to New Jersey to practice law.

He was the leading corporation lawyer and attorney in New Jersey and was the author of many of the laws which have been passed in the State. He was the author of many of the laws which have been passed in the State.

May Pass Upon Own Charters.

When Governor Stokes was Governor of New Jersey, he was asked to appoint a man to the bench of the Court of Appeals and Appeals in New Jersey. The Governor asked James B. Dill to be the man. The Governor asked James B. Dill to be the man.

It is likely that every trust or corporation in this country will have been at some time or other in the hands of James B. Dill. It is likely that every trust or corporation in this country will have been at some time or other in the hands of James B. Dill.

Here's the Story

L. SHEINWALD, 69 Summer Street, Boston, is known among "the trade" as one of the finest clothing makers we have. At the beginning of this season hundreds of the best dealers in New England placed big orders with him. Backward season and cold weather forced the merchants to countermand their orders, and Mr. Sheinwald was left with thousands of suits on his hands at the time of his failure. We bought these garments and place them on sale at a fraction above the ridiculously low price we paid for them, which is a good deal less than maker's cost.

Our purchase of L. Sheinwald's entire stock at our own price goes down as the largest and most clever deal in the history of American merchandising.

The high quality—the extensive variety—splendid character and ridiculously low cost—eclipses anything of its kind ever attempted or achieved. Here's a chance for you that reads like a fairy tale—almost too good to be true.

The greatest suit sale ever held.

L. Sheinwald's hand-tailored garments—Boston's best made clothes—Here they go for less than the maker's cost—less than even the cost of the bare materials from which they are made.

$7.50 Suits - 4.85

$10 Suits - 5.75
A mighty pretty blue serge—all wool and fast color—tailored in a thorough manner—also a light gray Scotch cheviot in snappy stripe effects—Why, the cloth in these suits costs more than the price we sell 'em for—$5.75.

Outing Suits

Fifteen hundred two-piece Summer Suits are included in this sale, and will be found in each of the groups.

$12 Suits - 7.45
Very pretty chevots—well casimere—soft summer color combinations—gray predominating—many of them Venetian lined—tailored right up to snuff—trousers in the new tapering effect—models of the tailor's art—value $12—sale price $7.45.

$15 Suits - 9.70
Finest Peacocks—serges—coal black chevots—single or double breasted—Scotch—tweeds—diagonals—splendid patterns—among these are the new Oyster Grays—don't forget these are L. Sheinwald's hand-tailored garments—choose among $15 ones for $9.70.

Mrs. Bessie Macintosh Davis's eyes and mind with tears and she gazed sympathetically at Melville C. Davis when Judge Brackett, after hearing the case against him, finding to prove that he was a polygamist, refused his attorney's plea for an amount of bail sufficiently low to allow him to return to his work and add, "I will put bail so high that he will be there when released. The prisoner is held for the Grand Jury in $2,000 bail."

Then she stepped to the dock and covered affectionately for a moment with her hand the face of her husband, who sat there with a pale face and a look of despair. She has every confidence in him and believes she is his legal wife. It was with a show of triumph that she produced her marriage certificate to the West Boston Court. The other woman had testified on the witness stand that she never had a marriage certificate. The woman who was Miss Davis, the respondent, who was Miss Davis, Macintosh, and who finally believed she was his legal wife.

LABOR CASE IN HIGHEST COURT

The United States Supreme Court is to decide whether an agent of a labor union is liable for damages to a union man if he secures the discharge of that union man from a union ship. Appeal to the Supreme Court was taken by the American Cigar Company labor case, in which Michael J. Barry of Haverhill has presented the ground that Damore secured Barry's discharge from the union ship of the labor union company.

The case was brought to the Massachusetts Supreme Court on exceptions taken by Damore. These were overruled and Damore then at Salem filed appeal to the United States Supreme Court, setting forth four assignments of error.

LABOR NEWS

There is no immediate danger of a strike by the elevator constructors of this city. At a special meeting of the local union it was voted to draw up a new agreement to be submitted to the employers for their approval before next Thursday night's regular meeting of the union.

The new agreement differs from the present one only in a few small details, and it is expected that the new agreement will be accepted by the employers and the union.

ICE WAGON DRIVERS.
At a meeting of the Ice Wagon Drivers Union No. 171 it was announced that the union had secured a new agreement with the city of Boston, which will be accepted by the city and the union.

MACHINISTS' BIG PICNIC.
A women's mixer for $4.00 in prizes was one of the big features of the picnic of the machinists' lodge to be held at the Loring Hotel, Boston, on Thursday, July 20. It is expected that the mixer will be a success and will give the women a good time.
